"PEACE" PLEDGE TO BE ADOPTED BY STATE G. O. P.

State Convention Meets in Springfield With Delegates Hopeful

Springfield, Ill., June 14—(AP)—War-conscious delegates to the Republican state convention met today to adopt a fall campaign platform built upon a "peace" pledge calling for strong national defense and non-intervention in the war abroad.

To several thousand delegates assembled in the flag-draped state armory, party leaders submitted a terse anti-war plank asserting:

"The Republican party stands for Americanism and peace. The Democratic party stands for internationalism and war.

"We demand, as we have always, an adequate national defense to protect the United States against invasion but we insist that not one drop of the blood of our youth shall be spilled on a foreign shore for purposes of interference in any European or Asiatic conflict."

Edward A. Hayes of Decatur, former National Commander of the American Legion, headed a subcommittee which drafted the anti-war declaration. In an all-night session, the committee weighed opposing suggestions that the convention approve and condemn the Roosevelt administration program of material aid to the allies.

Hits Sales Tax on Foods
Another key plank in the platform composed by the pre-convention resolutions committee pledged the party to an effort to remove the three per cent state sales tax from foodstuffs.

"We will legislate to remove the sales tax from food, and will reduce the cost of state government," said the pronouncement on state finances.

Placing expenditures of the Horner Democratic administration at roughly $250,000,000 a year, the platform draft declared this was $34,000,000 above what was spent by Republican administrations previously.

While thousands of the party rank and file jammed the capital, more hopeful than they have been in many years of returning to state power in November, the platform drafters and party leaders worked right up to the convention hour (11:30 a.m. central daylight time) on program details.

Awaiting action were several proposals for endorsements of Thomas E. Dewey's presidential candidacy, selection of eight delegates at-large to the national convention and the nomination of three candidates for University of Illinois Trustees.

No Recommendation
Members of the pre-convention resolutions committee declared they would make no advance recommendation on a request by Dewey backers that the convention pledge Illinois' 58 national delegates to his support.

Papadakis Sells Manhattan Cafe to Chicago Firm

George J. Papadakis, who for the past 13 years has conducted the Manhattan Cafe on Galena avenue, announced today that he had sold his business to James Costos and Theodore Christ of Chicago, the new owners to take possession July 1st.

Under Mr. Papadakis' management the Manhattan has come to be known as one of the best known eating places in the central west. While his host of friends will regret to learn of his retirement, all agree that he is entitled to a well earned rest. The new owners have had several years experience in operating high class eating places. Both are married and will move their families to Dixon early in the fall. Mr. Papadakis expects to remain in the restaurant until about August 1st. The present efficient force will continue under the new ownership, it was stated.

Mr. Papadakis plans to retire to enjoy the comforts of his beautiful suburban home east of Dixon on the Lincoln Highway. He stated that he would not leave Dixon. Rumors have been current for several days that the Manhattan was about to change hands, but early yesterday it had been stated that the change would not become effective before the latter part of July. However, the prospective purchasers came to Dixon yesterday afternoon and closed the transaction.

GOP Presidential Candidate Visits Dixon This Morn

Editor Frank Gannett of Rochester, N. Y., candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, arrived in Dixon this morning at 10:30 o'clock with his party, landing at the Dixon Municipal airport. The distinguished visitor was met by Mayor William V. Slothower and Commissioners Cal G. Tyler and Carl Newman, Democratic School, chairman of the airport board, Attorney James E. Bales, City Clerk Wayne C. Smith and Lyle Snader.

Editor Gannett addressed the Illinois Republican convention at Springfield last evening, his address having been broadcast. This morning he visited Lincoln's tomb, then boarded the special plane he is using on his tour of the country, which has been in progress for several months. He was accompanied by Mrs. Gannett; Leslie Wheeler-Reed, his Illinois manager, a former resident of Lee county whose early boyhood was spent in the village of Lee in Willow Creek township; Ralph R. Kearney of Rochester, private secretary; Lieut. Col. Russell Holderman, U. S. N. R., chief pilot, and Lieut. Jack Scheier, co-pilot, both of New York.

The candidate and his party are traveling in a Lockheed plane which last winter won the Curtiss trophy at the Miami, Fla., races. He has flown over 52,000 miles and leaving Dixon at noon, planed a short stop at Aurora, and will then proceed eastward to Rochester, N. Y.

His stop at Dixon was made to permit him to visit and pay his respects to Col. Frank O. Lowden at the latter's Sinissippi farm south of Oregon. In a brief interview at the airport as he entered a car with Mrs. Gannett to motor to Sinissippi farm, the New York editor when interviewed by a Telegraph representative, said:

Against Entering War
"As I remarked in my radio address at Springfield last evening, I am opposed to this country's entering the war. We cannot help the other countries by so doing and most certainly cannot help ourselves."

Editor Gannett blamed President Roosevelt for the "scandalous lack of preparedness he has found the United States to be in. President Roosevelt, more than a year ago must have known the inadequacy of our defenses," he said. "He must also have known of the seriousness of the situation in Europe. Why did he not launch his huge preparedness program then? He has lost a full year of most valuable time."

The presidential possibility pointed out that under the Roosevelt administration, this country

Farmers' Hopes for Better Prices Because of War Gone for the Time

Chicago, June 14—(AP)—Collapse of the war boom in farm commodities has thrown the American farmers' economic status back almost to the pre-war basis of last summer, analysis of market statistics showed today.

Prices of principal products the farmer has to sell average only slightly higher than they did a year ago, although they are somewhat higher in most cases than just prior to the start of Europe's hostilities nine and one-half months ago.

Calculations of some farmers based on the war boom level of prices have been upset. Market values of principal commodities have shrunk 15 to as much as 44 per cent from the peaks established since the conflict broke out and much of this loss, particularly in grains, has occurred in the past month, since the German drive on

EVERY POSSIBLE AID BEING GIVEN ALLIES SAYS FDR

Additional Steps for National Defense Are Announced

Washington, June 14—(AP)—President Roosevelt repeated today that all possible help was being extended to the allies and pointed to Hitler's record in response to a report that the German chancellor had said invasion of the western hemisphere was grotesque.

Roosevelt was told at a press conference that Hitler had called the possibility of German invasion of the Americas "grotesque" in an interview with a newspaperman.

Asked for comment, the chief executive gave none except to say "that it brings up recollections." He authorized direct quotation. He added that his remark could be enlarged on with dates and nations, going back over quite a period of years.

Roosevelt announced two additional steps to bolster the nation's defenses:

The signing of an army appropriation bill carrying about $1,498,000,000 for expansion of army personnel and fighting equipment.

Defense Research Committee
The formation of a national defense research committee headed by Dr. Vannevar Bush, head of the Carnegie Institution, and of the national advisory committee for aeronautics.

The board, the president said, will have seven additional members but their names are not yet ready for announcement.

Army and navy officers will be assigned to it and the organization will look into all research and experimentation which might be helpful in accelerating the huge defense program.

Government laboratories, laboratories of private industry and scientific and educational institutions will be asked to help in handling all research problems except those of aviation.

The latter will continue under the direction of the national advisory committee for aeronautics which will, however, co-operate with the research group.

The committee, Roosevelt indicated, will attempt to co-ordinate activities of the National Academy of Sciences, the National Research Council and the Federal Bureau of Standards.

The chief executive was asked whether he believed the United States could "extend its material resources to the allies in sufficient volume and sufficient speed to save them."

He did not reply directly, asserting it would take two hours to answer the inquiry.

Second Appeal Not Received
He said, also, that he had received no second direct appeal from Premier Paul Reynaud of France for "clouds" of airplanes and further assistance against the German foe.

(Reynaud said in a speech yesterday that he needed "clouds" of airplanes from across the Atlantic.)

If any such request has been forwarded, Roosevelt asserted, it has not been received.

Authority for recasting the projected fleet expansion program may be sought from congress, it was reported today, because of the object lessons which have marked the naval phases of Europe's war.

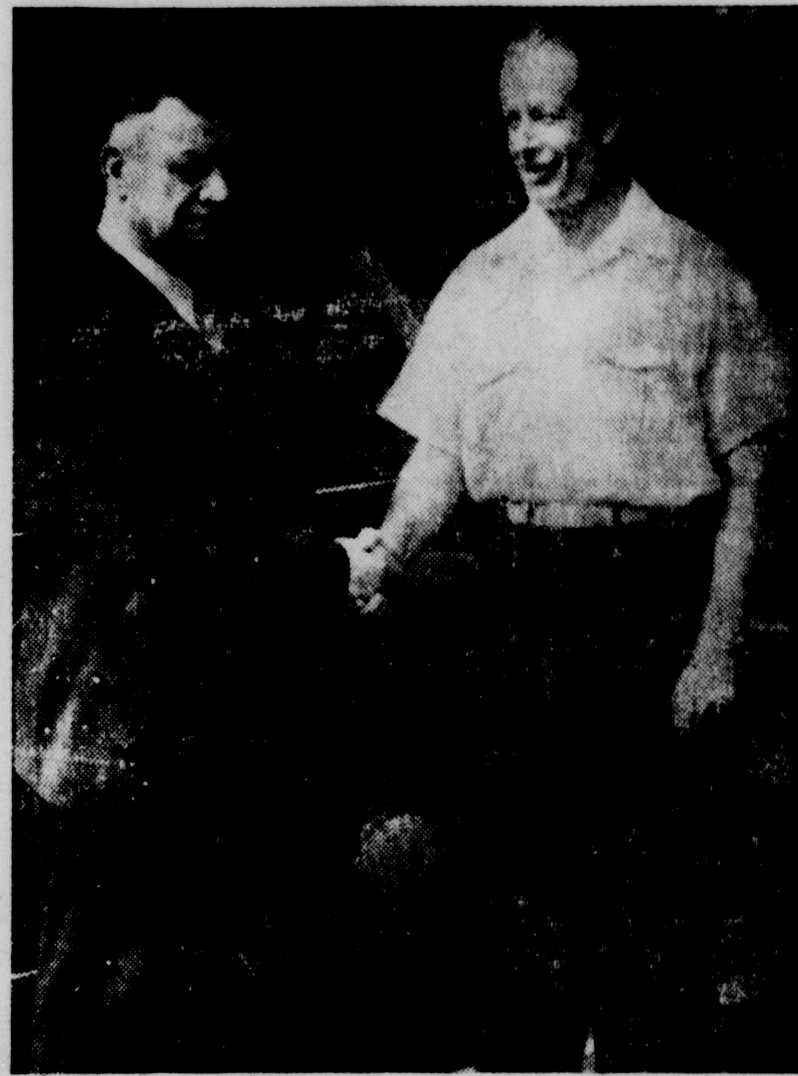

Roosevelt, a usually well-informed source disclosed, is considering requesting permission to shift legally-fixed tonnage classifications so that a large number of smaller and lighter warships could be built than was contemplated originally.

This hint of a reappraisal of

Million Poilus in Maginot Line in Grave Danger

(By The Associated Press)
Hitler's armies swept on past fallen Paris late today, striking 30 miles south of the Marne to Romilly, on the far upper (eastern) Seine, and stormed France's great Maginot line itself in a bold frontal assault.

While Nazi troops marched through the streets of Paris—and Frenchmen wept at the conquest of their beloved Capital—the German high command announced also the capture of Le Havre, vital French trans-Atlantic port on the English channel.

It was apparent tonight that the vast and supposedly "impregnable" Maginot fortifications were fast being flanked. Its northern Bastion, Montmedy, has already fallen.

Dead-tired French Poilus, many of them without relief since the battle of France started June 5, beat a retreat from Paris under the onslaught of the German avalanche—and awaited word as to where, how and even whether the battle is to go on.

"If the fight goes on," said a heavily-censored dispatch from The Associated Press correspondent in Tours, indicating that France, wounded to the quick, may capitulate.

There was no confirmation, however, of this.

Britain Spurred
The Nazis' tempestuous nine-day conquest of the French capital spurred Great Britain late today to unleash all the vast wealth of her war chest for the purchase of American supplies.

Britain will now go "all out," it was said, shifting her strategy from a long war—based on hopes of ultimate victory through the financial exhaustion of the enemy—to meet the fury of the German blitzkrieg.

Rapidly-swarming German mechanized columns poured behind the main Maginot fortifications between Paris and Montmedy to imperil from the rear the 1,000,000 Poilus manning the steel-and-concrete line.

In case of an assault from behind, it was not believed the French could turn their Maginot guns around.

Pursuit of the enemy until final destruction has now begun," the Nazi high command declared exultantly.

The French government was reported fleeing from Tours, presumably to take refuge in Bordeaux, on France's southwest coast.

The frontal attack on the Maginot line centered in the Saar region.

8 Transports Destroyed
Destruction of eight allied transports off LeHavre and damage to six others was reported by the Nazi high command, indicating heavy losses to British troops rushing to support their beleaguered French allies.

Madrid announced that Spanish troops had occupied the international zone of Tangier in the name of the Sultan of Morocco "to safeguard the independence and neutrality of the city."

Hitler's general headquarters, at a secret place on the front. As he talked the new troops marched, looking fresh and confident and accompanied by the most modern equipment.

Troops Moved in Buses
It seemed as though all city buses for miles along the German-Dutch and German-Belgian borders had been requisitioned to move them speedily.

While questions concerning exactly where the troops were going were met with an enigmatic shrug of the shoulder, meaning it was a military secret, I have the definite impression that Hitler, while at present concentrating on Paris, is also not leaving England out of his watchful eye.

Describing Hitler's life at general headquarters, Dietrich said that he lives very simply.

He said the Fuehrer is a voracious reader of the foreign press, and that he is kept informed of what it prints by sheaves of excerpts from news and comments in every section of the world. Hitler personally directs his press matters.

Hitler's Health Good
Dietrich said Hitler's health is

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

PARIS—Already in German hands—no longer counts.

An issue far transcending the sacrifice of this beautiful capital now is before the allies—whether the defending forces can be saved from destruction.

The position is just that bad today.

The Nazis, with the Battle of Paris won and the red of conflict in their eyes, are flinging themselves with renewed fury on the allied wings in an effort to envelop and crush the defenders.

These thrusts with overwhelming forces have driven deep into the allied front, both on the left flank on the Seine and on the right along the Marne. Even the northern end of the Maginot line is in peril.

Generalissimo Weygand is falling back and is reported as effecting the withdrawal of his army of a million men "in the greatest order."

But there is no use blinking at the fact that he is in grave danger despite his vast skill.

We can't pass on from this somber thought without asking what may lie beyond. It would be useless.

fast-widening European conflict.

The Nazi high command said Montmedy, vital northern anchor of the Maginot line, had been captured and declared there has been "complete collapse" of the French all along the 200-mile western front.

Claim Orderly Retreat

France's high command, however, insisted the French retreat was being carried out "in the greatest order."

Hitler's legions began marching into Paris yesterday afternoon. It was the first time since Bismarck's troops took Paris in 1871 that Germany's goose-stepping

British Abandon Plans for Long War Today

London, June 14—(AP)—The plight of France has caused Great Britain to drop her plans for a long war and go "all out" with her resources, sources close to the government said today.

This releases a fund of money and credit for purchase in America of anything which will convey or fire explosives. The fund originally was allocated for future years.

As a result of the change in policy, these sources said, British is giving the United States a blank check, in effect, for any kind of useable war material she can provide.

Everything already found purchasable in America in arsenals National Guard units and elsewhere is being sent.

This speed-up was indicated following disclosure in British military circles that Britain had sent reinforcements to France to join the allied forces fighting behind Paris.

At the same time, the Admiralty announced that the 17,046-ton liner Caledonia, fitted as an auxiliary armed cruiser and renamed the Scotstoun, had been sunk yesterday by a submarine. On the credit side, the Admiralty reported at least one heavy bomb hit perhaps two, on the 26,000-ton German battleship Scharnhorst in Trondheim fjord yesterday.

Present What Counts
No program aimed at later production will be permitted to stand in the way of the fullest possible effort now, these British sources declared.

This is partly the result of the loss of allied resources because of the widening Nazi hold on France. From 75 to 80 per cent of France's steel producing plants now are in German hands, these sources said, and the same is true of many factories producing war material.

But, they added, fortunately for the allies, most of the French factories producing ammunition are

Lowell Park Beach to Be Flood Lighted Park
Officials Say Today

Patrons of the Lowell park beach, most popular bathing resort in this section, will welcome the announcement by the Dixon park district today that the beach is to be flood lighted. Through the cooperation of the Illinois Northern Utilities Company, plans have been completed for the installation of a lighting system to supplement the small plant which has been in use for some time, and which has not proven satisfactory at all times.

A power line is to be constructed through the park to the beach house and flood lighting units placed along the entire length of the beach, which are expected to be ready for operation by July 1st. The improvement will greatly facilitate night bathing, but the 10 o'clock closing order will remain in effect. Park district members today stated that patronage at the beach had almost doubled since announcement was made of free bathing privilege.

House Passes Bill to Report Harry Bridges;
Senate Action Asked

Washington, June 14—(AP)—Immediate Senate action on a resolution for the deportation of Harry Bridges, west coast C. I. O. maritime leader, was demanded today by Senator Reynolds (D-NC) in view of House passage by a 330-to-42 vote.

The Harry Bridges defense committee served notice at San Francisco that it would call for a nationwide protest against the House for approving the legislation directing the attorney general to send Bridges, an alien, back to his native Australia at once.

Undeterred, Reynolds told reporters that "if the immigration committee doesn't act on that bill within five days, I will ask the Senate to discharge it and bring the legislation to the floor."

"That man ought to be deported because he is opposed to our form of government," Reynolds added.

Proposal that Machinery for Draft Be Set Up Immediately Is Advanced

Washington, June 14—(AP)—

A proposal that congress set up machinery immediately for drafting manpower in a national emergency, but that it retain the right to say when this machinery should be placed in operation, is being advanced in various military and congressional circles.

Advocates said the plan would cut a month from the time required to mobilize large numbers of men in any situation which congress deemed to warrant such action.

If a selective service law were enacted now, the proponents contended, approximately 6,500 local boards necessary to help administer it could be appointed at once. Regulations and registration forms could be printed and issued to them.

The system then would be ready to swing into action at anytime, on orders from Capitol Hill, and experts believe it would have the first men reaching army camps within 30 days thereafter.

There has been no indication in any quarter that the army wants to institute selective service in the near future. General George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff, has expressed the opinion that ordinary methods of recruiting volunteers would be sufficient to bring the regular army to the 375,000 strength for which congress is now voting funds.

Whether sentiment in congress for enactment of a selective service law will reach substantial proportions is a matter of conjecture.

less to try to dispute French Premier Reynaud's words to his people last night.

"Today the life of France is at stake—at least France's essence of life."

Should the Germans succeed in crushing the French army—and that possibility certainly exists—it naturally means the capitulation of the nation.

All this is by way of taking an honest look at the situation and isn't intended to run up the white flag for the gallant French.

So long as the French army exists and the will to fight remains, France isn't beaten. Weygand undoubtedly will do utmost to reach new lines of defense and carry on. The British are rushing into France every ounce of help they can scrape up, even sending their home-defense troops.

It may be that Weygand will try to reach the line of the Loire river for a stand, but everything is on the knees of the gods. This much we can say:

If the general is able to pull his long line back safely in the face of this terrific German onslaught he will indeed have performed one of those miracles we have been hearing so much about.

Meanwhile fascist sources predict that Mussolini's armies soon will be in action, presumably against continental France. This would mean an assault against the Franco-Italian border.

Then it was announced this morning in Madrid that Spanish troops had occupied the international zone at Tangier, North Africa. If this proves to be true it may forecast the entrance of Spain into the war against the allies.

Such a development would, of course, greatly increase the pressure against the Anglo-French especially the British control of the Mediterranean. Undoubtedly one of the first moves would be an Italo-Spanish assault on the great Rock of Gibraltar in an effort to wrest this western sentinel of the Mediterranean from England.

This isn't a pretty picture at which we have to look today, but there still is one more point we should clear up. Supposing France has to surrender and the British empire thus is left to shoulder the job alone? What then?

It wouldn't be surprising if in that event Hitler struck quickly at England in an effort to achieve his ambition of invasion. He is in his full strength and Britain is still disorganized from the defeat in Flanders.

Indeed, Hitler has hinted at an imminent offensive against England in an order of the day to his armies. Also, Louis Lochner, As-

It's smart to buy a bathing suit for the same reasons you buy a dress—because it dramatizes the best features of your figure and conceals less attractive ones. In other words, because it is honestly flattering. The chic woman chooses a color which does something for her complexion in a style that is right for her particular figure. She makes the selection as carefully as she does when buying shoes or a coat, or even a hat.

Round of Parties Honors Miss Ortt

As June passes rapidly by, the June 30 wedding date of Miss Leone Ortt and John W. Mills draws closer, and friends are busy planning numerous parties that will fill the remaining two weeks before the couple's marriage. Last evening, Mrs. Leland Shoaf and Mrs. Homer K. Millard, Sr. were entertaining at the Shoaf home on North Dixon avenue, honoring the bride-to-be.

Three tables were placed for contract. When tallies were compared at the close of play, Mrs. Floyd I. Smith, Mrs. Homer Millard, Jr., and Miss Lois Stimeking were unwrapping score favors. The group's gift for the honoree was a floor lamp.

A silver and white wedding cake, encircled with sprays of mock orange and topped with a tiny bride and groom, was the dessert course for the lunch.

Circling the tables were Mrs. Floyd I. Smith, Mrs. Eldon Myers, Mrs. Kenneth Detweiler, Mrs. Homer Millard, Jr., Mrs. Paul E. Minnigan, Mrs. A. V. Lund, Mrs. Wallace Elfrson, Mrs. Carl Plowman, Miss Stimeking, Miss Ortt, Mrs. Shoaf and Mrs. Millard.

Stripes are seen on some of the smartest dining tables this summer. For individuality, try making several sets yourself. Choose a fresh-looking green and white-striped linen, cut the fabric into four square pieces, and match them so that the stripes of two squares run one way and the remaining ones at right angles. Stitch the squares together on the sewing machine with flat inside seams. A soft moss fringe would make an appropriate edging. You can turn out yards of it in no time at all by winding floss or yarn around the handcraft guide of your sewing machine. Your local sewing center will instruct you how to make this and many other smart edgings that have a professional look.

Records show that at the end of the sixteenth century, the Spaniards cut mahogany trees in Jamaica which were 36 feet in girth.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and detested, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Yes, We Can Help!

The wringing of hands never did anybody any good.

Confronted with the desolation of all northern Europe, many people in the United States have been reduced to a shellshocked state in which they are able to do nothing but wring their hands and utter feeble cries.

It is true that the United States has been caught in a position where it can do nothing about the military campaign now racking France and threatening Britain, even if it wanted to. In respect to that we are helpless. We shall not always be helpless, but for the moment we are.

But this does not mean that we can do nothing. We can be of definite help, without risking a life. We can help to relieve the suffering, clothe the naked, feed the starving.

So calloused have we become during the past few years, so used to the bombing and starving and dying, in Ethiopia, in China, in Finland, in Manchuria, Poland and Spain, that we do not react, do not respond as we once did.

But we must fight this coarsening of our sensibilities. No less tragic than the men who are dying on the battlefronts, in some ways more tragic, are the refugees. In France, there is now one refugee for every seven inhabitants. That is the estimate of a worker for the American Friends' Service Committee, the Quaker organization which has done such splendid service for relief in many lands.

Try to imagine it! Suppose that the United States, in addition to its present relief and defense burdens, had 18,570,000 refugees suddenly placed in its care. That would be in the same proportion as the burden the French are now bearing. They have had a half million Spanish refugees for more than a year. They received 2,000,000 from Alsace-Lorraine at the very beginning of the war. And now the tide of misery from Belgium and Holland and their own eastern border has come rolling in. This burden they must bear even while they fight for their lives with their backs against Paris. Surely America, whatever it eventually does about the war itself, cannot be deaf to the cry of these millions of miserable waifs, stripped of everything but life itself, and that ebbing away in the face of unspeakable privations.

The Red Cross, the Friends' Service Committee, the Norwegian Relief and scores of other organizations are doing the best they can. The response to the Red Cross' appeal for $20,000,000 is nothing to be proud of in its initial stages. This appeal must not fail.

Whatever else we lose in the grim coming years, let it never be said of us that we lost our hearts!

Fellow Travelers, Attention!

Nobody has ever laid down a better rule of guidance on communist "fellow traveler" organizations than Assistant Secretary of State A. A. Berle in resigning from the National Lawyers' Guild.

"It is now obvious," said he, "that the present management of the National Lawyers' Guild is not prepared to take any stand which conflicts with the communist party line."

So Berle resigned. He has laid down a fair test. Many people of liberal and progressive mind have joined organizations which professed certain objectives with which they were in sympathy. The organizations were for "peace" or "democracy" or "civil liberties," or what not, all perfectly laudable objectives.

Then, in one test after another, these members found the organizations committed time after time to courses which happened to coincide exactly with the communist party program. In short, the communists followed the "democratic line" as long as it attracted liberal members, but never when it conflicted with Moscow's direction.

When liberal members of such groups become convinced, as Berle did, that the organization is such that it will never take a stand contrary to Moscow dictates, then the thing to do is to get out, as Berle did. For when that is the case, it matters little whether direct communist control can be mathematically shown. The organization's possible usefulness to democracy and to the American republic has ended.

Looking 20 Years Ahead

Happening to pass a large and impressive building under construction the other day, we noted that it was a new Veterans' Hospital.

Yes, that's correct. Veterans' Hospital. You see, the peak of hospitalization for World War veterans has not yet been reached, though it is 22 years since the guns stopped firing in 1918. Neuro-psychiatric cases are still cropping up whose seed was sown on the fields of Flanders 22 years ago.

What seeds are being sown there today? Does anyone think that the casualty lists of 1940, even when they can be estimated, will reveal the total losses being suffered there by all countries? Not at all. Another generation, practically the second in a row, is being stripped of its best young men. Brains and ability needed in the future are being poured out along with the blood. And in 1962 the casualty lists, the hospitalization of shattered men will still be adding to the toll.

How well, do you suppose, does Adolf Hitler sleep at night?

SERIAL STORY

AN EYE FOR A GAL BY HARRY HARRISON KROLL

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: As he starts the game, Rossy is wild. He feels a murderous impulse to beat the batters facing him. Then he hears Dr. Tollivar, telling him to settle down. In that moment he knows Dr. Tollivar threw the ball that killed his father. Rossy comes through, fans the next three batters.

CHAPTER XI

NOTHING like that game could ever happen again, Rossy McAfee well knew, when the last ball was pitched. He had wrought a no-hit no-run athletic miracle out of as unpromising material as one could hope to see.

"Let's go to my office," Coach Hurd nodded, after introducing Ike Hill. They took chairs in the room, pictured with athletic teams; and Hill smoked.

"So you're Rossy McAfee," Hill murmured. "I knew your father."

"You did?" Rossy cried.

"Mighty well. I scouted the game when he was killed."

"You did?"

"Absolutely. It was the first Hell'n-Damnation ball game I ever saw—and the last. You know how stories drift out—the wildest, craziest ball players that ever were: feuded even in their ball games; great pitchers, great hitters, great everything."

"But you, bub, have the goods, and no doubt about that. I'm going to offer you a contract that will nail you down, make it possible for you to go on with your education and play ball, and give you time for ripening a little. You're still too green in the husk. Later you'll probably have to be farmed out to one of the bush leagues. But if you grow like I think you will, you'll be up there some of these days dazzling the little old natives in the big time."

"There's the dotted line," Coach Hurd grinned.

"Give me a pen," Rossy said faintly, and he signed with irregular letters that betrayed his joy and excitement.

THAT evening at supper at Dr. Tollivar's the table talk was all about the game, about Rossy's great break. Dr. Tollivar said simply:

"McAfee deserved it. He had it coming to him. Now, Judy, I wish you would wrap up a change for me, and not put in my old straight razor—but the electric. Rossy and I are going up into Hell'n-Damnation early in the morning for the weekend. You'll excuse me now," he smiled. "I have some work at the office before I can get off." He took his hat and went out.

Judy smiled at Rossy. "I'll pack later. Let's sit in the front room and talk about everything. For this is a great day for you, Rossy."

I need not tell you that, though," she added, as they sat on the sofa. "She gave him a penetrating look. "Maybe I shouldn't tell you this, Rossy. But really I want you to know it. You have a lot to thank to daddy for this day's gifts. He arranged for Ike Hill to come, was in touch with him weeks ago about you."

"Daddy has strained every possible point to make college available to you. He secured the scholarship, worked it out with Coach Hurd that you were to stay with us without cost, and from the day Coach Hurd saw you away last summer you have been constantly on his—our—mind."

"You'll forgive me for reminding you, I do it not for any appreciation, but simply so that you will understand other things that may come up."

"I'm glad you told me," he said. "But why is your father so—so interested in me?"

"I think he'll tell you that tomorrow."

Then, without knowing just how it had happened, Judy was in his arms and he kissed her. The radio was going, mutely doing a love waltz by Strauss. Outside the excitement of the afternoon rose and fell, dying hard because of the intensity of it.

Somewhere Rossy could not keep on holding Judy there so close to him. He let her ease out of his embrace. Clumsily enough he got to his feet and said, "I reckon I've got a little packing to do too. I'd better be at it. Good night."

He moved quickly out and ran upstairs.

BEFORE dawn Rossy and Dr. Tollivar were driving off the slumbering campus. The powerful car devoured the miles. It was possible by a long detour to come into the village in Hell'n-Damnation in the car, and Dr. Tollivar, to Rossy's amazement, parked in front of Judge Jesse Leverage's. Squire Jesse came out and they all shook hands.

"I'll get you the mule and buggy, Doc," Leverage said, and not long afterward Tollivar and Rossy were driving up the winding old road that went to the school house and church on the grounds of Old Ebenezer.

They reached the ball grounds. "Whoa," Tollivar said, and the two got out.

"It's been a long time since I was here," Tollivar murmured. "Yes," Rossy nodded. "That was the day my pappy was killed."

"Yes," Dr. Tollivar said, not looking at him.

"So you was the pitcher that day for the Tollivars. You are a Tollivar, and not a Tollivar."

"That's right. Before we go in to the matter that really brought us here, McAfee, I'll give you some idea of all that was behind that game. Then we'll go have a look at the land in dispute between you and your cousin. I understand, of course, that really hasn't gone into court yet."

"I may as well tell you, however, I have been corresponding with old Jesse Leverage, and I have all the papers on that case. I have had a lawyer down at Mountain City working on it too. Now I think we have something to work on, and it will stand up in court."

"I don't know that I'm keering as much about that now as I am about the other thing," Rossy said, bitter in spite of himself.

"Let's sit down," Dr. Tollivar said, and they took a seat on the lower planks of the grandstand. The college president lighted a cigar, smoking thoughtfully. Rossy did not smoke.

"All right. I was pitching out there. It was up to me to kill your father. I remember that all very well. Rossy—better perhaps than you do or ever can."

"You see, there had been a meeting of the Tollivar clan. My folks and I had only lately come back into the mountains from Texas where my dad had gone to avoid killing a McAfee or getting killed by the McAfees. We had heard the feud had died down and now the clans were playing ball. So father returned. But there was a dispute, bad feeling was roiled again, and just to satisfy the family dad and I went to the meeting at one of the Tollivar cabins that night when lots were drawn for the hand who would kill."

"Well, it was my infernal luck to be it. I know now it was all a put-up job but I didn't know it then."

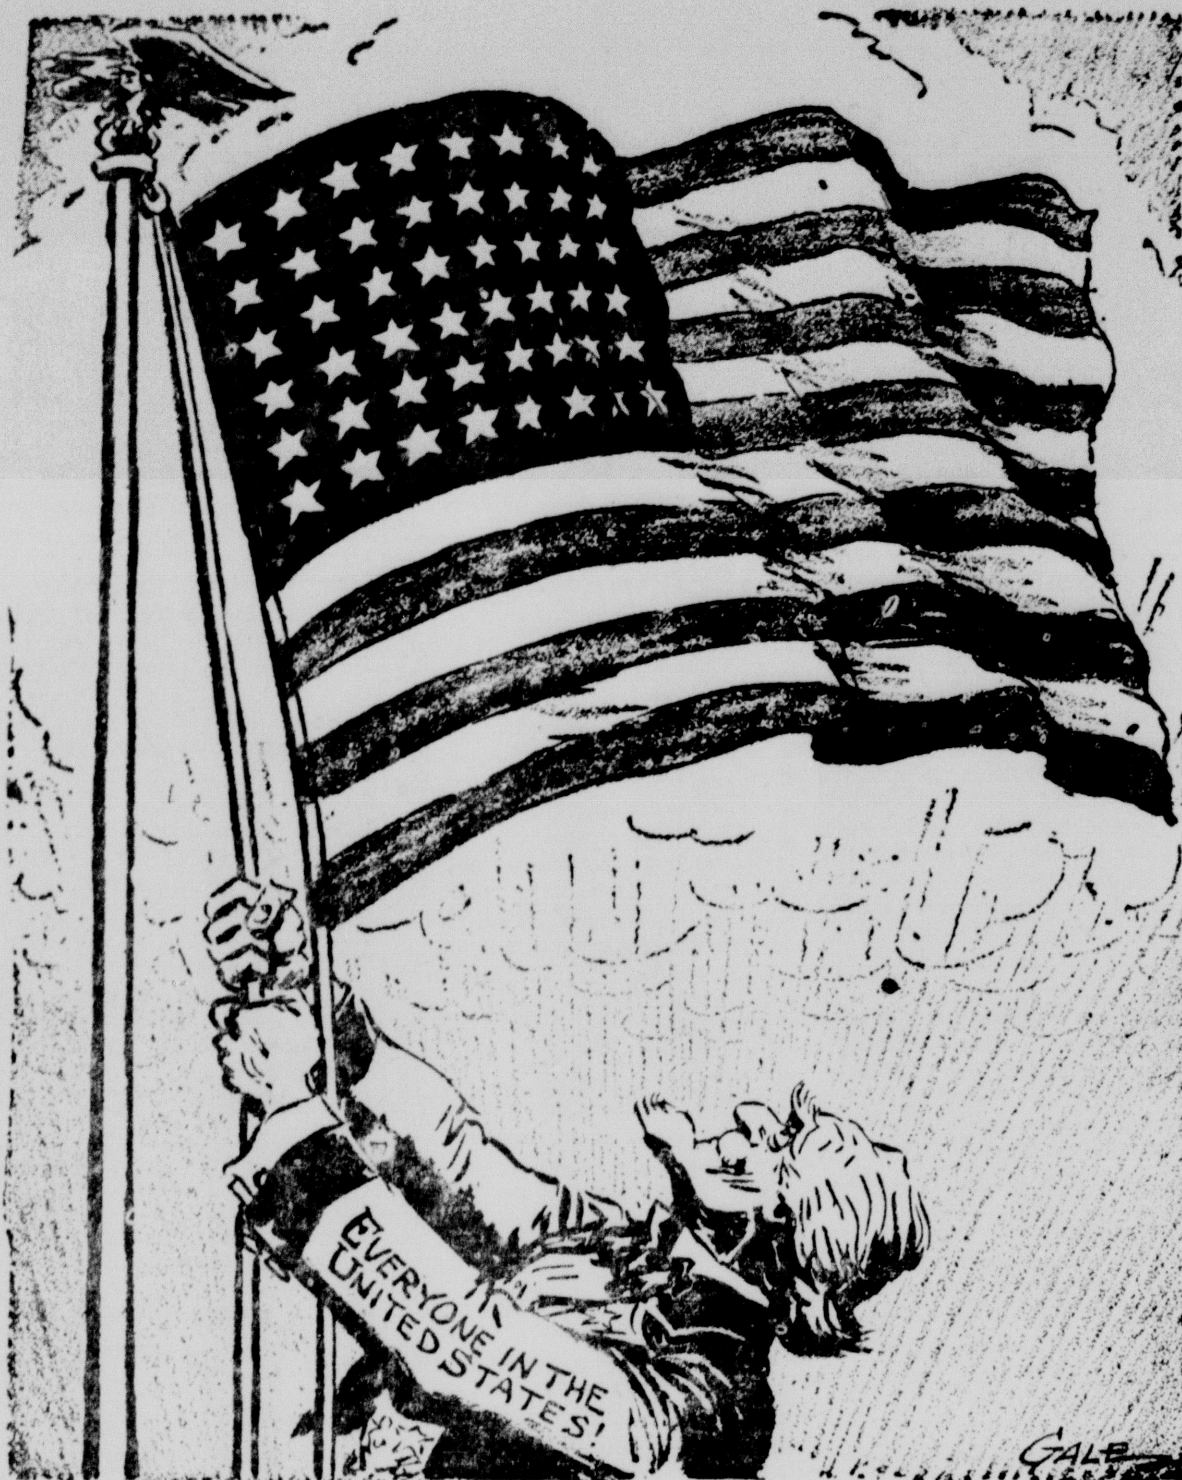

"I was to pitch that game. They told me, 'You're a great pitcher. You've got everything. But when you're wild you're wild. Tomorrow you need only be wild but accurate. You understand. Beat McAfee. Hit him back of the ear. He dodges right-handed. It will be an accident.'"

"You know what kind of a feeling I took into that game. All I could think of was what they had said. And by some deadly fascination, in my nervousness, I pitched the ball that knocked your father unconscious."

"But it was not that lick that killed him. He was killed by a blow behind the grandstand by a member of your own family."

Show Your Colors!

The time was never so fitting nor the need so great as today, for all Americans to keep before their eyes the glorious symbol of their national unity and pride—the Stars and Stripes.

The American flag identifies to the world the only great nation that is still actively dedicated to the principles of democracy and liberty, to peace and the law of peace.

We who are citizens of this nation, who prosper through its strength, who breathe its atmosphere of fraternity and opportunity while other peoples know only fear, anxiety and sorrow, must today give more than the customary signs of love and reverence to our flag.

We must display it everywhere, so that it will always be within the vision of every eye, no matter how wandering or preoccupied.

We must make it our inseparable companion wherever we go or wherever we rest.

Our flag must be the most honored first decoration of our homes, offices, factories and public buildings.

Every train, airplane, bus and private car should bear the flag as a token of confidence and pride.

The actual, visible presence of our national emblem at all times and in all places is today a spiritual necessity.

The flag is beautiful itself.

What it symbolizes is still more beautiful.

It stands for a nation that has always prized freedom and justice above all other things.

It stands for an ideal of thought and action that has never denied liberty and justice to any man who yearned for them and deserved them.

It has been a beacon of hope to the poor, to the oppressed and persecuted.

It has always represented the strength of unity, a strength never exercised tyrannically, yet never timid or lax when invoked in the cause of human righteousness.

It is, above all, a promise to Americans that their lives, the lives of their children, their goods and social destinies are safe as long as they cherish with their hearts, as long as they preserve with the minds and hands the ideals which the flag symbolizes.

What better object then, to keep continually and reverently before our eyes?

What emblem more solemnly important.

What more deserving of our patriotic devotion?

And today, in a world distracted with the insults and conspiracies of violent revolutionaries who hate all thought of order and peace, who labor day and night for chaos and despotism—in this world so racked with anger and hate and destructive lies, what better rallying point for intelligent and honest men than the Stars and Stripes?

Let us therefore Old Glory be everywhere visible.

Let us whom it protects and shelters give it the utmost of our creative devotion, our determined resolve to work for America in tranquility and justice, our everlasting decision that under the Stars and Stripes men will always be free in the brotherhood of honor and strength.

News Behind THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited)

Washington, June 13 — The speech Mr. Roosevelt did not deliver at Charlottesville may make an interesting contribution to history when it turns up in Roosevelt's memoirs long hereafter.

The story told (and believed) in the congressional cloakrooms is that Roosevelt decided on Sunday as a result of earlier telephone conversations with Mussolini to make a speech indirectly threatening American participation in the war if Italy did not remain neutral. He planned it only as a diplomatic threat to promote peace. This draft was about completed when Ambassador Bullitt called from Paris at 11:50 a. m. Monday with the information that Italy was going in. Mussolini, so the story goes, was aware of Roosevelt's intentions from the telephone conversations and hurriedly entered the fray before Roosevelt could issue his threat.

The president thereupon had to rewrite the address entirely and he hastily chose the somewhat un diplomatic language that he later enthusiastically delivered over the airwaves.

The story may be apocryphal as it lacks direct confirmation, but his congressional supporters like to believe it because it removes from Roosevelt's language any suggestion of direct and early American entry into the war.

Other inner evidence belies the over-interpretations associated with Roosevelt's strong language. The president told a congressman two days after the Charlottesville address he had no plans which would call for Congress remaining in session beyond June 21 or 22. His position seemed to be that he would call Congress to return if anything developed during the summer, but that he did not expect anything. A declaration of war could be made only with Congress in session.

A frank indication that American defenses will be in no acceptable condition for action this year is contained in the unobserved testimony of General Marshall and Colonel James H. Burns before the House military affairs committee. Both indicated the latest $1,700,000,000 program to build "shadow factories" for ordnance, planes, and munitions is founded on the British rearmament experience of 1936.

Burns went further to stress that 12 to 20 months is generally required between the initial decision and quantity production in these fields. The British were three years building some of their plants. They did not acquire quantity production in ordnance until more than two years after their decision to rearm.

American ways are far more efficient than the British, and the national defense advisory council is functioning here (except the labor section) with special speed. Officials are making decisions fast and working war-time hours.

Sudden shift in the temper of incoming mail from home is noted by congressmen. Mrs. Mary Norton, the New Jersey congresswoman, has checked among her colleagues and found that their mail, too, started switching about a week ago to demands for American participation in the war immediately.

The letters bear few of the usual stamps of propaganda, according to Mrs. Norton, who found they were generally written by individuals in longhand.

Nevertheless there are signs that someone may be developing a system of longhand mail propaganda. A letter has appeared in a local newspaper's "Constant Readers" column denouncing "irresponsible women" of the United States who want peace, describing American men as victims of the "sissifying process" of feminine school teaching and urging that "America bow her head in shame" for failing to send soldiers to hurl the Germans "east of the Maginot line."

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON.

MORNING AFTER THE NIGHT BEFORE

Sore, aching muscles, tired soup bones and shoulder blades sprung out or place were being nursed by members of the Toastmaster's club today following a rip-snorting game of softball at the club's picnic at Lowell Park yesterday. Those huffing and puffing around the bases came back to the city with the report that Huebner's team dashed the Barrowman club (in four innings), 18 to 14. Huebner did the chugging for his winners and Dr. Raymond Worsley and Elwin Wadsworth were maulers for the losers. Dr. J. L. Tavenner took all the abuse which umpires must battle.

V. F. W. TO PLAY AT STEWARD SUNDAY

The newly organized V. F. W. hardball team will play its first out of town game Sunday afternoon when they meet the Phipps Recreation team at Steward at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. The lineup and announcement of where to meet for transportation will appear in tomorrow's Fanfare.

AQUATIC TOUR

We made a tour of the watering places yesterday and found peace on all fronts. At Lowell park beach, John "Apple" Crabtree was basking in the summer sunlight with an eagle eye on the fair-sized throng of young swimmers. Motor boats, kayaks and canoes added to the picture of summer recreation. At Crawford's pool we found John Bennett keeping a vigilance and chattering his teeth in a stiff late-afternoon breeze.

ALL-STARS ARE CHALLENGED

John Lange, former catcher for the Brown Shoe company team, is reported ready to pick a softball team which "will knock the socks off" the James Billiards all-stars. Lange & Company are seeking a game with the all-stars for a week from Sunday night, June 23.

GAMES TONIGHT

All Spinden, manager of the United Cigar softball team, says that if the farmers want rain, all they have to do is get a game scheduled for his team. The boys have been rained out of two league engagements and have played one out of town contest in a sea of mud. Tonight Spinden's team is slated for its fourth attempt to meet the league opposition and so far, it isn't raining. The United Cigar will meet Sparky's team in the second game tonight. In the first game the Sinclair Oilers will meet the State Hospital.

FARM BUREAU BASEBALL

Winnebago County Farm Bureau team, winner of one of two games, will play the Ogle county team in a league game at 2:30 at Mt. Morris Saturday afternoon.

WHAT THE ALL-STARS HAVE DONE

With the announcement yesterday of the lineup of all-star players from the Dixon softball league who will play under the James Billiards banner in the Sunday night ball games at the Airport, the pencil-pushing began and the results may interest you. As a team the boys are batting .323 and fielding .897. On Sunday night the all-stars will make their debut at the Airport in a game with the Rockford Social club, a Negro team, and the Dixon girls will meet the Rockford Negro girls in the preliminary. Cracking down the All-Stars' individual records, we get:

HIGH POINT TRACKMAN

As a windup of the sports at Mendota high school, it has been announced by Coach Rufus Dewitz that Frank Seno garnered 108 points during the track season and led his nearest rival by a comfortable margin. Don Whitmore was second with 90 tallies and Bob Larkin third with 66. During the season the Mendota squad captured four victories in eight meets and a total of 388½ points.

THREE DEUCES TO ROCK FALLS

Doug Curran's Three Deuces, managed by Bill Bushman and one of the powerhouse clubs in the softball league, will play the Sinclair Oilers in Rock Falls Sunday night. The game will start at 7 o'clock and players of the Dixon team are asked to meet at the Three Deuces at 6:15 for transportation. Charles Mason, the lad who did a swell job of holding the Reynolds team to three hits in 5-1-3 innings the other night as his mates clouted out an 11 to 6 victory, will be on the mound for the 3-2-2's and Full will be behind the mask.

GRUDGE MATCH

Harold "Peewee" Schertner and Ken Emmert have a grudge bowling match which will be rolled at the Dixon Recreation alleys Saturday night at eight o'clock. It is reported that the stakes demand that the loser shall push the winner to the City National bank in a wheelbarrow immediately after the match. You better stand back by the curb as the parade goes by.

Peter Phalen, George Horton, Ed Doyle and James Lynch will witness the White Sox-Boston game in Chicago tonight. Pete says "We're going to see a REAL ball game play." Do you mean Boston, Pete?

GAME AT ASHTON

The Reynolds Wire team will play in a feature program at Ashton Thursday night of next week, according to Floyd Schafer of the host town. The local team will meet an Ashton town club. The preliminary game has not yet been arranged.

EVEN CEDAR RAPIDS CAN'T DO MUCH WITH JUST 3 HITS

(By The Associated Press)

Even teams so adept on economizing their base hits as the Three Eye league's pace setting Cedar Rapids club can't do much on three hits.

That was all the Red Raiders got off Johnny Schmitz last night, and although they turned those in to two runs, Madison won, 8 to 2. A five-run sixth inning, topped by Toncorff's homer with two on base, settled the issue for Madison.

However, Cedar Rapids failed to lost ground to second place Springfield, which lost its second straight to Evansville, 9 to 5. Ted Frank scored his sixth pitching triumph against one defeat as Clinton defeated Waterloo, 8 to 2. Decatur and Moline split a double header, the Commodores scoring 11 runs in the last inning of the opener. To win 15 to 7, Moline came back with 11 runs in the first three in-

Knacks vs. Walton Here Sunday

Two Clubs Tied for First in Ashton Loop

WALTON TO TEST DIXON BALL CLUB HERE ON SUNDAY

Illinois State League To Be Active With Full Schedule of Tilts

GAMES SUNDAY

Walton at Dixon
Amboy at West Brooklyn
Maytown at Shabbona
Steward at Lee

The Dixon Knacks, who were beginning to think the Illinois State League wasn't quite classy enough for them and who last Sunday found they were mistaken, will engage in another home contest at Reynolds field Sunday afternoon. This time the foe will be the Walton boys—an aggregation of players who have a way of knocking things galley-west and throwing their opponents into convulsion fits.

Last Sunday's thumping at the hands of West Brooklyn should have done nothing more to the locals than to whip them into shape for their next contest. It remains that Manager Hi Emmert has an excellent ball club when everyone performs on his toes, but when the barriers are let down, they suddenly become duck soup.

A Real Test

Walton, with two victories and only one defeat, should give the Knacks a real test Sunday—and the results should show whether the local club is able to go on and successfully defend its league title this season. At the present time the Shabbona team, a new member of the circuit, is nipping at the heels of the locals and shades the top berth.

If the Knacks can be taught to realize the importance of a Sunday contest on Saturday nights, they should have no trouble when the 2:30 hour rolls around on the Sabbath.

Lee Hinrichs, who has been doing a swell job on the mound for the Knacks this season will probably draw Sunday's assignment. If the locals have fallen down at various times, it has been through no fault of his. Welter or Drew will probably be given the job for Walton.

Other League Games

While the Knacks are engaged with Walton here, three other league games are on tap. At West Brooklyn the Amboy team will be working to crack its on-the-fence record of two wins and two defeats. The same effort for the same purpose will be expended by the West Brooklyn club which has the same record in the won and lost column.

Maytown draws the tough Shabbona foe on the latter club's diamond. Shabbona has rolled over such foes as Lee Steward and Amboy and has boxed only to West Brooklyn. Maytown has defeated West Brooklyn. Such a picture gives new life to the league with no single team a longer very sure of itself. And that is as it should be.

Groping around for the light as they wrestle in the cellar will be the Steward and Lee teams which meet on the latter's field. Each club has won a single game and Steward has lost two while Lee has dropped three by one-run decisions. There is no reason to believe that each team can not make it not for their rivals before the season closes.

MANAGER VITT OF INDIANS FACING POSSIBLE OUSTER

Cleveland, June 14—(AP)—Manager Oscar Vitt of the Cleveland baseball club, facing possible dismissal as the aftermath of a mass demand by players for his ouster, was called into conference with President Alva Bradley today.

Veteran players carried their protest personally to Bradley in a move believed unprecedented in major league baseball history. They told the president they could not win as long as Vitt remained at the helm, charging him with insincerity, ridiculing players and caustic public criticism.

Vitt expressed amazement when informed by reporters of the protest and at first believed it a joke. He declared he "had no reason to believe any member of the club has any enmity toward me."

"Nobody can say that I have not given 100 per cent in energy to the team," the gray-haired pilot declared. "I can't imagine what could have impelled them to do this. It looks as if somebody has been stirring up some trouble."

Meeting Secret at First

Bradley kept the meeting secret at first, but admitted later "a few

Louie Bevilacqua of Dixon Rates Headlines as Pitcher in Florida

Latest Dixon athlete to fall in to the classification of "home-town-boy-makes-good" is young Louie Bevilacqua, now a rookie pitcher with the DeLand club in the Florida State league.

"Lou's" most recent accomplishment was to set Sanford down with three hits as he whiffed four. He throttled the Seminoles with the minimum of slouts and received excellent support from his mates as they slowed the blazing pace of the league-leaders.

Earlier in the season Bevilacqua chalked up another merit mark when he aided in a 19 to 8 victory over Leesburg. In that game Lou rated headlines when he relieved Toenes on the hill and not only came through with a fine bit of hurling to halt the Anglers, but rapped out a pair of circuit blows and scored three runs and himself. One of his homers came with the bases densely populated.

In Leesburg Game

In the Leesburg battle Bevilacqua batted in five runs, scored two himself, was credited as the winning pitcher, figured in one double play, struck out four, walked four and allowed three hits in 7 2-3 innings.

Last summer when young Bevilacqua was pitching for the Dixon Knacks in the tournament at Des Moines, Ia., he was noticed by Bill Rogers, manager of the DeLand club who was scouting the games for Chattanooga. Louie was offered a contract late in March, and signed.

The Chattanooga club of the Southern league, Class A-1, has a working agreement with the DeLand club for the purpose of developing future big league material. The Florida State league is Class D organization consisting of eight cities all located in the central and one of the most picturesque parts of the state.

Baseball Spotlight Falls on Four Games of Cincinnati and Dodgers

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

The baseball spotlight will be focussed this weekend on the four-game collision of the Cincinnati Reds and Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbetts field, Brooklyn, in the hope that the violent struggle there will indicate the eventual National league champion.

Whether it will or not is open to question, but there never will be a more dramatic setting for a test of power between two strong teams that are virtually deadlocked for the lead.

The ball park, seating approximately 35,000 persons, has been sold out for today, tomorrow and Sunday and police reserves had to be summoned yesterday in Brooklyn to clear away thousands of fans clamoring for tickets in front of the Dodger offices.

The pennant fever Cincinnati developed last summer has been reduced to insignificance in the face of the ardor of Flatbush fans, who believe that the reinforcement by Outfielder Joe Medwick and Pitcher Curt Davis will enable Brooklyn to crush all other contenders.

Medwick in Cleanup

Medwick was to take his place in the Dodger lineup today at left field, batting cleanup. Manager Leo Durocher had Tex Carleton, the no-hit nemesis of the Reds, groomed for the first pitching assignment against the champions. Bill McKechnie countered with Gene Thompson, the young right-hander who has won eight games this spring.

Both leagues swung into action today on new fronts, the National league in the eastern sector and the American in the west.

The Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers staged a red-hot interlude yesterday while the other clubs were traveling and the Indians eventually triumphed, 3-2, in 10 innings.

The victory lifted the Tribe back into second place and gave Lefty Al Smith his sixth victory against one defeat, although he gave up 13 hits to the 10 collected by Cleveland.

Ragged Efforts

Detroit's ragged efforts caught up with them in this one. Charley Gehring hit a home run in the first and the Tigers got another in the second. They had scoring chances in almost every inning thereafter and loaded the bases with none out in the 10th.

Then Cleveland came to bat and Roy (Beau) Bell doubled. With two out Ben Chapman, who previously had tripled, doubled and singled, rapped an inconsequential grounder to Gehring, who made two separate errors on the same play and let in a run.

The best pitcher in baseball, was present at the meeting, one of the veteran players said.

Probable Accusations

Bradley refused to discuss the charges, but it was understood these accusations were made:

That Vitt ridiculed his players in conversations with reporters, fans and opposing players and managers;

That he undermined confidence and spirit of the individuals by sarcastic comments on their failures;

That he had been insincere in dealings with players;

That he is a "wild man" on the bench, communicating his "jitters" to the players;

That his antics have made him a laughing stock among other teams;

That he has persisted in comparing the Indians unfavorably with minor league teams he has managed.

"We are a good ball club and we've got a chance to win the pennant, but if he manages the team all year we'll be lucky to

Three Aids to be Added to Staff at Playgrounds

When another week of supervised playground activities begins Monday, three new staff members will assume duties which they will continue for the rest of the summer. Betty Jane Heck will begin her work as supervisor at Dement park; Marian Harris at E. C. Smith park and Lucille Covert at Reynolds field.

During this past week baseball teams were organized and much interest in the program has been reported. Next Monday the first out of town game will be played with Nelson at 1 o'clock at Eberley field.

Carmels were donated by the Borden company again this week. Many children enjoyed skating on Thursday afternoon and each week transportation is furnished to the skaters on the following schedule: Reynolds field-1:15; E. C. Smith-1:30; Dement-1:45; and John Dixon-2:00.

Install Sand Boxes

The park board has installed large sand boxes at each playground which the children are enjoying very much.

Due to the large number of children what are going to Lowell park on the Tuesday and Friday picnics, the staff is asking that any child under the age of five must be accompanied by an older sister or brother who will be responsible for the younger child. Parents wishing to send small children to the playgrounds for designated hours have been asked to send notes with the child concerning the time. The supervisor will be willing to keep the children all day.

When damp and on rainy days, the activities will be held at the South Central school gym. Children must be there before 9:30 in the morning and 1:00 in the afternoon. After those hours the doors will be locked.

Those interested in tennis instruction are asked to report at the courts on Thursday morning from 9:15 to 11:00.

British Abandon—

in the south.
The government is not so much concerned momentarily about the United States' production capacity as about the material there already manufactured, they said.
For instance, they explained, the British expeditionary force's loss of a thousand fields guns in the withdrawal from the Flanders trap has left few in this country for the enormous army which must be put into the field.

Want Red Tape Cut
The situation with regard to rifles is not so acute, they said,
but they warned that the demands of the local defense volunteers—
the home guard against possible German invasion—have taken a large part of the supply.

While she will take all that America can send, and urges the cutting of red tape, these sources said Britain's own stepped-up production had vastly expanded her purchase of machine tools from the United States and that she would continue to take such tools up to the United States' capacity to send them.

The policy is to put into the field at once the biggest army possible—briefly: a minimum of soldiers in a minimum of time—they said, but the allies must look across the Atlantic for a large part of the equipment.
They expressed belief it was the United States' duty to herself to do the best she can in the hope her aid will turn the balance for democracy.

Need Is Immediate
They emphasized that the need is now, next week and the week after—not next year—although they declared that those charged with supplying Britain's army were not forgetting to look further ahead also.

Primarily what Britain wants from the United States, these sources said, are the weapons that country manufactured at the close of the last war to replace those she obtained from the allies.

For instance, they mentioned
American 75's and American-made British Enfield rifles as very important and said some of the needed weapons were being turned up in batches of hundreds.

Urgent need was mentioned also for certain explosives and parts for the manufacture of tanks, tractors, machines and shells.

Britain, pledging "the utmost aid in her power" to the embattled France, dipped into her home defensory to strengthen her expeditionary army in France and lashed out with widespread aerial attacks on German troops and Italian empire bases.

Face Tribulations
In rushing to France "thousands" of soldiers who had been counted upon to protect the British Isles from threatened Nazi invasion, the British government told French Premier Reynaud that "we cannot measure the various forms of tribulation which will fall upon our peoples in the near future."

But the British message expressed determination "to continue the struggle at all costs in France,
in this island, upon the ocean and in the air wherever it may lead us, using all our resources to the utmost limits".

Court Asked to Expunge
Records of Recent Poll

Springfield, Ill., June 14—(AP)—
Edgar B. Elder, Republican candidate defeated for a vacancy in the Chicago Municipal court caused by the resignation of Judge Joseph A. Graber, today asked the State Supreme Court's leave to seek a mandamus compelling the Chicago election commission to expunge results of the June 3 election to fill the vacancy.

Elder charged combining the election with elections for Superior and Circuit Court judges was illegal and asked that the vacancy be filled by another election November 5. Elder received 24, 399 votes and George L. Quillier, the Democratic candidate, 221,575.

Senate, in a meeting last night, chose Senator Earl B. Searcy of Springfield to head their fall campaign committee. Senator Charles F. Carpenter of Moline was named secretary.

warriors had marched into the beautiful old French capital.

Weakening French resistance was indicated in a heavily-censored dispatch from Tours stating that a new French defense line would be taken up anew on the Loire river, 65 miles south of Paris, "if the fight goes on."

Dozens of lines in the dispatch were censored, but it was evident from the number of important German gains which the censor permitted to go through—including a major new threat to the Maginot line itself—that the Associated Press correspondent was trying to tell of even greater events.

Bullitt Sends Word
This acknowledgement followed by some hours the first news of the Nazi victory flashed by United States Ambassador William C.
Bullitt, in Paris, who informed the state department in Washington that German armies "are inside the gates of Paris."

Bullitt's message was sent at 7
p. m. yesterday, Paris time, but it was not received by the state department until nearly 1 a. m.
E. S. T. (12 a. m. C. S. T.) today.
Adolf Hitler ordered all German beflagged for three days and all church bells throughout the reich to ring for 15 minutes
today in celebration of the victory.

The fact that Associated Press staff men, already moved from Paris to the provisional seat of the government at Tours, were getting ready to move again indicated that the French government also might be preparing to flee farther south ahead of the onrushing Nazi columns.

Claim French Collapses
German reports spoke of the collapse of large French units,
Nazis in Berlin said.

Italy, meanwhile, reported its first land action, a successful defense against a French attack on Galisa hill, 36 miles northwest of Turin on the Alpine frontier, and claimed to have scored hits on two enemy submarines in the Mediterranean.

The fascist high command also claimed the capture of a number of English officers in repulsing an attack in Italian North Africa; defeat of a tank-supported allied attack on the Egyptian-Libyan frontier, and successful aerial operations over southeastern France,
Tunisia and on the Red sea.

Sorely-pressed France turned to the United States and democracies the world over with pleas for material support and "clouds of warplanes" to match the aerial spearheads of the deep Nazi drives on Paris.

Premier Paul Reynaud in a late night speech to his people said France is "losing this battle" but suggested broadly that France's is the common battlefield of the democracies.

Aid Must Be Speeded
At the emergency capital in Tours, Reynaud spoke of the generosity of America in providing help when asked but implied that delivery of planes and materials already promised by President Roosevelt must be speeded if France is to be saved.

He told his people he had made a "new and last" appeal to President Roosevelt and added:
"It is necessary that clouds of warplanes come across the Atlantic to crush the evil power that has descended over Europe."

To Reynaud's challenge to quicker delivery of urgently needed planes, the White House responded that "everything is being done that possibly can be done."

Reynaud asked everything in the way of war support and then challenged:
"Will they (Americans) hesitate to declare themselves against Nazi Germany?"

The Germans, looking beyond
Paris, gave indications of moving on the provisional capital at Tours. Roughly, they already have enveloped 18,000 to 19,000
of France's 212,600 square miles.

Adolf Hitler declared the Norwegian campaign finished with the withdrawal of the last allied troops from the vicinity of wrecked
Narvik in the Arctic and said
German destruction of 144 enemy war vessels and transports made one of the brightest pages of German military history.

RECRUITS ENUMERATED
Chicago, June 14—(AP)—A total of 987 recruits has been accepted by the United States army during the past three weeks of recruiting in Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, Lieut. Gen. Stanley H. Ford, commander of the Sixth Corps Area, reported today.

He said most of the mid-western recruits were being sent to Fort McClellan, Ala., to be trained in the enlarged army, which is being expanded to 280,000 men.

6,147,636 TREE SEEDLINGS
Springfield, Ill., June 14—(AP)—
The state division of forestry announced today that 6,147,636 tree seedlings were distributed for planting in Illinois during the spring.

American farmers received a cash income of $2,610,000,000 for the first four months of 1940, or 12 per cent more than in the corresponding period in 1939.

Safety Entourage Pays Visit to Dixon

Mayor Ab Jenkins of Salt Lake City and members of his party on a transcontinental tour, stopped in Dixon for a brief time Thursday afternoon and were greeted by Mayor W. V. Slothower of Dixon at the city hall.

Left to right are shown: C. B. Farr, Studebaker Corp., South Bend, Ind., H. H. Collier, Rockford, northern Illinois Studebaker distributor Earl Watts, Dixon Studebaker sales representative; Mayor William V. Slothower; Mayor Ab Jenkins, mayor of Salt Lake City, Utah; W. D. Lake, Chicago, district representative Firestone Co.; Neil Howell, Dixon representative Firestone Co. Details on Page 8.

nary plans gave an added fillip to steadily mounting congressional sentiment against adjourning on June 22.

Congress May Remain
Anti-adjournment forces used as another argument for staying here the "new and last appeal" which Premier Reynaud of France addressed to the United States last night for help and "clouds of warplanes from across the Atlantic".
The White House promptly expressed assurance that "everything is being done that possibly can be done."

Some lawmakers were of the opinion that the nation should go to greater lengths and offered new proposals for abandonment of the neutrality act.

On the question of recasting the 11 per cent fleet expansion plans, congressional consent would be necessary because the recently-approved bill allocated 79,500 tons for aircraft carriers, 66,500 tons for cruisers, and 21,000 tons for submarines.

The sinking of two British aircraft carriers with a heavy loss of planes and equipment, naval circles explained, made it probable that the size of future American carriers would figure importantly in any program change.

Urge Smaller Carriers
Some naval experts were reported urging that two carriers of 15,000 tons be built for every 30-000-ton one contemplated, so that the loss would not be so great if one were sunk.

The navy evidenced anew yesterday its determination to press forward with its building program at all speed. Contracts were awarded for $9,368,287 worth of machinery for nine submarines and three auxiliaries appropriated for in another bill which Roosevelt signed on Tuesday. Orders to start work on 22 ships were issued an hour after the bill was signed.

Other events yesterday related to defense or assistance for the allies included:

Joint senate-house committee approval of legislation granting Roosevelt the requested authority to trade in surplus army guns to manufacturers for resale to France or Britain.

The senate's unanimous vote to include a $50,000,000 fund for allied refugees in the pending relief
bill.

Speed Pilot Training
Plans to produce 10,600 trained men a year, including 7,000 pilots, to staff the nation's expanding Army air force were announced by Secretary of War Woodring.

The plans involve use of two of the Air Corps' principal operating bases as training centers for pilots and instructors, in addition to the existing "West Point of the air" at Randolph Field, Texas.

The period of training has been ordered shortened by a month. It

FUNERAL IN CHICAGO
Funeral services for John B.
Rathbun were conducted at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the chapel, 6453 Irving Park road,
Chicago. Interment was in Acadia Park cemetery. Mr. Rathbun was well known in Dixon, where he was born, being a son of Mrs. Emma Barge Rathbun, whose father was the famous Dixon attorney, William Barge. He was also a nephew of Mrs. Elizabeth Barge Martin.

CASE REMANDED
The Illinois Supreme court today reversed the Whiteside county circuit court's denial of compensation to Rose Scott, of Rock Falls, widow of Howard, who was killed by deputy sheriffs who had mistaken him for a striker during a labor dispute at the Northwestern Barbed Wire Company plant at Sterling. The case was remanded to the Industrial Commission for entry of an award.

MAYOR UP IN THE AIR
Mayor Bill Slothower had an experience today which he will not soon forget. After welcoming Editor Frank Gannett of Rochester, N. Y., Republican presidential possibility candidate, some of the members of the reception committee were invited to view the city of Dixon from the clouds. The chief pilot directed Dixon's mayor to the co-pilot's seat in the cockpit, where he was strapped in position, while Hal Roberts, Lyle Snader, Attorney James E. Bales and Dement Schuler occupied the cabin seats. The fast Lockheed racing ship climbed to an altitude of about 4,800 feet and attained a speed of 240 miles per hour as it circled over Dixon and vicinity.

Some of the trip was above the clouds while the ship was driven through heavy cloud banks which at time obscured all ground vision. All were very enthusiastic over their ride and the view of Dixon's countryside from the high altitude.

excellent, and that outdoor life agrees with him. He said much of his time was occupied with conferences with military leaders.
"Naturally," said Dietrich, "he doesn't venture into the frontmost line where the battle rages. No chief of staff does that and it would be folly to do so."
"But he's often in conquered places very shortly after their capture."

Dietrich discussed with emotion
Hitler's visit to those sections of Belgium and northern France where the fuhrer had been in the trenches during the World War.
Ghent, Kortrijk, Langemark, Dunkergue, Lille, Vimy Ridge,
Loretto, Arras, Douai and Cambrai all were visited by him and Dietrich said, wherever soldiers saw him "the joy was indescribable."

also cited the fact that both army situation in all branches of service, concluding by stating:

"The United States army, today

Gannett and his party flew

he visited but a short time with greet his party, then departed for den for a short visit.

The Illinois supreme court today denied William M. Patterson, Chicago, a communist party member, permission to seek a mandamus compelling state officials to place the names of communist party candidates on the November election ballot.

The court gave no reason for its refusal to permit the suit.

Secretary of State Edward J.

convention nominating papers of 29 communist candidates for presidential electors.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

FIDELITY

Nothing is more noble, nothing more venerable, than fidelity.

—Cicero.

A constant fidelity in small things is a great and heroic virtue.

—Bonaventure.

Fidelity is simply daring to be true in small things as well as great.

—Henry Van Dyke.

No greater hope have we than in right thinking and right acting, and faith in the blessing of fidelity, courage, patience, and grace.

The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well, and doing well whatever you do, without a thought of fame.

—Longfellow.

Only they who fulfill their duty in everyday matters will fulfill them on great occasions.

Pilgrimage to Old Mormon Cemetery Near Amboy May Result from Visit of Salt Lake City Mayor in Dixon

Ab Jenkins Manifests Interest When Told of Burial Plot

Mayor Ab Jenkins of Salt Lake City, Utah, stopped in Dixon yesterday afternoon on a cross-country tour from New York city to San Francisco, Calif., with C. B. Farr of South Bend, Ind., representative of the Studebaker corporation. The veteran auto race driver exchanged greetings with Mayor William V. Slothower at the city hall, where he visited. Jenkins told the Dixon mayor:

"Six years ago I drove through Dixon and several other mid-western cities on an endurance run and at that time I high-tailed the mayors and cities. Today I have come back to apologize for my actions and am not in the hurry I was then."

Jenkins, who is proud of the fact that he is a member of the Mormon faith was asked how many wives he had. Smiling broadly, he replied:

"The male population of this country today has more wives than the Mormons ever had."

He then explained that Mormons no longer countenance polygamy. When informed that an old Mormon cemetery south of Amboy was still existent, the Salt Lake mayor was quite interested. He asked many questions concerning the location of the plot, making notes which he said would be handed over to a Mormon historian upon his return to Salt Lake City.

To Seek New Records
Jenkins, who drove the pace car at the Indianapolis 500 mile race Memorial day, is conditioning himself to start about July 1 to break several records which he now holds. These events will take place on the famous Bonneville salt flats on the shores of Salt Lake.

Among the records he now holds and which he will attempt to better, are 180-mile-an-hour speed record; 500 mile trip averaging 171 miles per hour; 1,000 miles at 168 miles per hour; 24 hour drive, averaging 157 miles per hour, or a total of 3,744 miles; 48 hour run, averaging 148 miles per hour, or a total of 7,134 miles. Jenkins, in addition to his many record motoring feats, drove cross country runs in 1926, 1927 and 1931, and is now contemplating his fourth.

Mayor Jenkins discounts repeated reports to the effect that Salt lake is drying up. When asked concerning these reports he replied:

"No, Salt lake is not drying up. It has a receding point which it reaches about every 10 years, then from some unknown source, the basin refills to a normal stage. It has reached the low point and is now refilling."

When asked about Salt Lake City's financial status, Jenkins replied that he was not conversant with this subject without the records.

"You know I did not run for the office of mayor of Salt Lake City," he explained. "I was in a hospital at the time and the people of Salt Lake City just elected me. I can say officially, however, that the condition of our city is excellent, that our tourist population is growing each year and we will be only too glad to extend our famous hospitality to your Dixon people at any time, and invite them to visit us."

After his visit, he drove through the business district and left Dixon at 4 o'clock to go to Clinton, Ia., which was the next scheduled stop.

Behind her waving bars.

When their hours of trial came in peacetime and in war They kept "Old Glory" waving there. Their strength forevermore.

Now an hour of crisis finds us Facing foes within our land. Who would see our "Flag of Freedom" Trampled in the very sand.

If they do not love our country And the things for which it stands They will find their creeds in practice. If they go to other lands.

Oh it is our sacred duty Sons and daughters of the free. To guard all our country's portals From the mainlands to the sea.

And as day with all its splendor Greet "Old Glory" waving there. May we kneel in greatest reverence Thanking God for his loving care.

Mrs. Lena Huffman Dixon, Ill.

THE TENDER YOUNG THINGS ARE LEAVING THE FARM FOREVER!

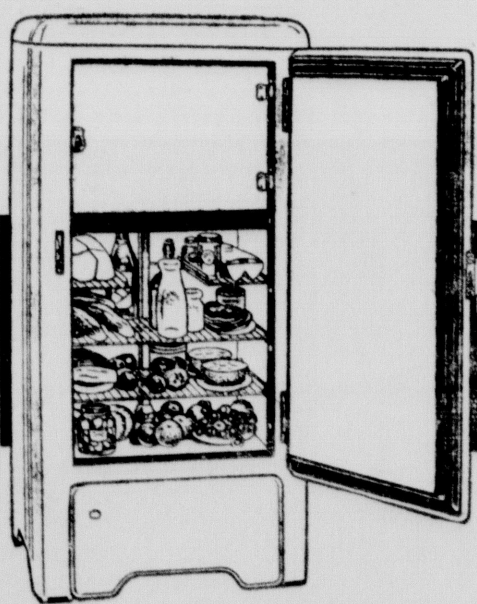

And Mother Lettuce Says: "CHILDREN BEWARE OF COLD, DRY AIR!"

They are green in more ways than one, these perky young heads of lettuce, setting out to find out what their salad days are all about!

A wiser head than theirs warns them—"If you want to keep that sparkle and crispness—if you want to avoid that wilted, droopy look that turns people against you—stay away from dry air! When you get to the big city, pick a home where there's a modern ICE refrigerator! In it the villain Dry Cold never lurks—only properly moist, clean-washed vitalized air. There you'll keep your youthful freshness."

The amazing 1940 air-conditioned ice refrigerators give you many other advantages besides freedom from dry cold. Get all the facts—talk to one of our Service Men—or call at our show rooms. Prices are amazingly low—terms easy. Ask about our free trial offer.
